Note on the question as to how the decline of population in individual villages has to be traced and dealt with.

(1) In his letter dated 12th October 1923, the Revenue Commissioner says that the Registers of births and deaths are being mechanically signed by the Jamabundi officers and that there is no suitable agency at present for watching the decline of population in individual villages and taking the necessary action. The Dewan has ordered thereon that it should be worked up in my Section.

(2) The Revenue Commissioner apparently refers only to the Register of births and deaths kept by the Patel; but there are three other Statistical Registers which give information on this point, one- the Village Register of Statistics (Form No. 17)- kept by the Shanbog, the Second- the Village Improvement Statistics- kept by the Village Improvement Committee in Villages in which such Committees exist and the third- the Hobli Book- kept by the Shekdar of each Hobli. The first two forms are given at pages 91-112 of Part II Village Manual and the third is given at page 85 of the Taluk Manual Part I. As the Village Register of Statistics (Form No. 17) gives the population of each Village for five consecutive years and also for the several censuses, the Sanitary Inspector of each taluk board may be asked to refer to the above Registers and then to prepare a Register of villages showing a decline of population from year to year. Afterwards he may investigate the causes of decline if possible and bring the matter before the taluk board; and the medical officer on the board will then advise the board regarding the remedial action to be taken. The matter will, if necessary be also reported to the District Board.

I am afraid the remedies suggested in para 3 supra involve procedures which are as mechanical as those which in his letter No.C.1353 dated the 10/12th October 1923, the Revenue Commissioner deplores. The statement proposed to be prepared annually by the Sanitary Inspector to show the variations in population on the basis of the census figures and other available statistics of local populations would furnish little clue as to the causes underlying the depopulation. Moreover the variation each year would perhaps be so little as to be passed over without notice.

2) Even with evidence of decline of population, the Sanitary Inspector will be helpless in the matter of initiating further action - which must be preceded by a carefully conducted epidemological and other investigations in the local areas concerned Such investigations should be undertaken as soon as the figures show an abnormality in the health conditions but not to wait for a period of five years/when the conditions may have changed.

3) Again the study of the precise health condition of any particular village is facilitated not so much by a comparison of the census figures as by vital statistics carefully collected and scientifically tabulated. The entire question seems to me therefore to centre primarily upon the correct registration and compilation of vital statistics to enable us to secure accurate data for purposes of comparative study.

4) The present system of collecting and ~~x~~ compiling vital statistics has been in existence for over 40 years. Attempts have been made from time to

to time to improve the present methods with a view to secure greater accuracy and reliability but so far they have met with little or no success. The present machinery consists entirely of unprofessional men, laden with other important revenue duties and it is but natural that this part of their duties has received scant attention in the past. In the course of my inspection tours also, I have noticed that several patels have -- failed to send in their monthly returns of vital statistics and yet the omission has not been taken notice of. For instance, in Chitaldrug, the Taluk records disclosed that out of a total of 163 villages for the taluk, returns for October 1923, had been received only from 102 villages What happens now is that the Sheikadar merely tabulates whatever returns he receives from the village Patels and does not trouble himself with those villages which fail to send the returns. The compilation is done in a mechanical sort of way by the Sheikadar, who, being an unprofessional man, is unable to appreciate the significance of the statistics he handles.

In this connection, it is well to remember a few uncontrovertable facts. One is that the revenue officer who is at present the controlling, supervising and compiling authority is, as already stated, overburdened with duties which leave him but little time to give any serious attention to the registration and compilation of vital statistics. He is prone - and with sufficient cause - to view the work as something extraneous imposed on him and in consequence, the whole procedure reduces itself in his hands to the mechanical preparation of a monthly return regardless of the accuracy and significance of the recorded figures. He heaves a sigh of relief, if anything at all in the shape of a return, leaves his hands on the due date and gives ~~a~~little thought again to the matter until a few days before the next return falls due. He has no predilliction for the work and no amount of rules will remedy the defect. The Sanitary Inspector is somewhat better in this respect but he has, like the revenue officer, voluminuous work in other directions. His also is a case in which, it appears to me, an endeavour at strict enforcement of rules, will be of little avail. Moreover, his practical knowledge as to diagnoses of diseases, ~~its~~ the relation between morbidity and the mortality and other alluded matters is of an inferior type and this lack of precise scientific knowledge is sure to be reflected not merely in the compilation of the figures but in their subsequent handling to signify the precise health conditions in localities and in determining the lines of ~~the~~ special investigation or the nature of the practical measures called for.

(6) I have given this matter my most careful consideration and I feel convinced that under the existing arrangements for the supervision of the registration of vital statistics there is not the ghost of a chance to secure the end in view I am of opinion that the local officer most competent to supervise the registration of and handle the ~~xxx~~ vital statistics to any useful purpose is the local medical officer, either a Sub Assistant Surgeon or an Assistant Surgeon, as the case may be, as it is a matter of common knowledge that during epidemic times, the brunt of the work for combating diseases devolves on him. It would be but a logical step to extend his sphere of duties so as to embrace the correct evaluation of the health conditions of villages and for this purpose to ~~be~~ invest~~ed~~ him with the duty of examining and compiling the recorded vital statistics for the villages.

7) Rule 17 of the rules issued with Government Order No.6664-714/San.71-15-3 dated the 10th March 1916 (requiring that in the minor Municipalities, the Medical Officer stationed at the place should be the registrar of births and deaths) is, I believe in effect the acceptance of this principle and it seems to me worth while to extend it to rural areas as well.

Z

8) Among the possible objections against this arrangement is that the patels not being subordinates to the Sub Asst:Surgeons will not be amenable to disciplinary measures- if, for instance, they fail to send in the monthly returns on the due dates or habitually neglect the registration of vital statistics in their villages. But what is most needed in this matter is not so much disciplinary control as suitable instruction to aid the patel to a correct appreciation of the value of the statistics. It need$ scarcely be said that of all people in the taluk, the Sub Assistant Surgeon is the most fitted to impart instruction to Patels availing himself of the occasion of his visits to villages on epidemic prevention or other duty. The official relation of the patel with the Sub Assistant Surgeon - or the lack of it - need not be a barrier to constituting the local medical officer as the registrar of vital statistics for the taluk. Dereliction of duty on the part of patels may be reported by him to the Amildar of the taluk, or to the Deputy Commissioner through the District Medical Officer or to the Sanitary Commissioner.

9) Another objection of some apparent weight is that Sub Assistant Surgeon cannot find the time to attend to the compilation of the statistics But considering that the village returns have to be ~~considered~~ consolidated only once in a month the question of the time involved is not of much moment.

(b) In case Government are pleased to agree with me in these views, the arrangement may be tried tentatively for one year in the Bangalore District. I prefer this district as the dispensaries will be practically under my eye and I shall be able to personally examine - as often as necessary - how the scheme works.

(c) For the additional duty that devolves on the Sub Assistant Surgeon, I would recommend a duty allowance of Rs.10/- per mensem. The cost for the Bangalore District - which has 14 dispensaries - will be Rs.140/- per mensem or Rs.1680/- per annum. The expenditure is negligible compared with the real advance that would ensue over present defective methods of ~~xxx~~ scrutinising consolidating and tabulating the vital statistics. Pending consideration later of the question of ~~xx~~ debiting either the whole or a portion of the cost to the District Board Funds - should the result of the present experiment justify the extension of the scheme to all the districts - the sum immediately required may be sanctioned as a grant-in-aid from the provision under "Plague and other Epidemic Charges" in the next year's budget.

I do not, of course, claim any finality for the scheme that I now suggest. We have had the present arrangement working for nearly half a century now and in spite of ~~mier~~ minor amendments in the rules, the results have been no better than what they were in the beginning. A somewhat radical change in the procedure is thus absolutely necessary. The ~~sheme~~ scheme now proposed holds promise of a tangible improvement in the statistical value of the recorded figures and for this reason deserves a fair trial

(13) Subd. The Sanitary Commissioner suggests that the work of the compilation of Vital statistics should be entrusted to the Sub Asst Surgeon instead of to the Sanitary Inspector as the former is more competent to supervise the registration of the Vital Statistics & hand it them to any useful purpose. & that the scheme may in the first instance be tried in the Bangalore Dt. For this new work the Sanitary Commr proposes to give an allowance @ Rs 10 to two Asst Surgeons, the total cost on this account viz. Rs 1640, being debitable to the Provision to meet Plague & other epidemic charges.

NOTE—Contn. sheet.

There is certainly need for making special efforts to secure the accuracy of the recorded vital statistics. But it does not appear to me that the existing rules (sanctioned in Government Order No. 6684-714/San. 71-15 dated the 10th March 1916) have been sufficiently long tested to be pronounced as found wanting. As provided in these rules, the Sanitary Inspector is the official responsible for the compilation of the figures at the Taluk Office, And if, in spite of the rules, the old procedure of apportioning the work to Shekdars still continues, the remedy is certainly not to have recourse to so sweeping a change as the one recommended. Instead, the endeavour must lie in the direction of enforcing a stricter observance of the rules.

2b/ The proposed procedure is, besides, not free from practical objections. As it is, the Sub Assistant Surgeon has enough work of his own which, if properly done, absorbs his whole time and attention. No other distraction ought to be placed in his way. The extra work is bound to be trying, seeing that unlike the Sanitary Inspector he does not form an integral part of the taluk establishment and can have no direct ~~touch~~ touch with the registering officers, viz., the patels. He cannot undertake systematic tours specifically for checking the work of registration, sacrificing his dispensary duties. He can only check the registers spasmodically during visits occasioned by out-breaks of epidemics. It is hardly necessary to add that the behaviour of epidemics being quite uncertain, many villages may not be visited by him at all for several years. The Sanitary Inspector's duties on the contrary are such as will take him to almost every village in the taluk once during every year - possibly oftener. The advantages as between the Sanitary Inspector and the Sub Assistant Surgeon are thus apparent.

(27) With a view to a better co-ordination of the work, I would propose all the Sanitary Inspectors being placed - for purposes of the scrutiny and compilation of vital statistics, directly under the Chief Sanitary Inspectors. The latter in their turn should be responsible - just as far as this particular line of work, with all that it stands for, is concerned, to the District Medical Officers, who will supervise the consolidation, tabulation and review of the recorded figures. By this means ~~ax~~ a closer co-ordination between the Medical and Sanitary branches - i.e., on the curative as well as on the preventive side - might be more effectively established. The recorded statistics can then be put to practical use in estimating the precise health conditions of localities and/initiating special investigations or practical remedial measures.

59/ The registration, compilation, inspection, and use of vital statistics in Mysore need revision but it is somewhat difficult to be dogmatic about the lines along which the revision should proceed. The vital statistician, Mr. Sundararajan, and I are now engaged in the drawing up of a new system to be used experimentally in certain towns and villages of the Bangalore and Mysore Districts. When we gain sufficient experience to justify the recommendation of revision in the present practise, we expect to submit a memorandum to Government covering necessary changes. In the meantime, the existing rules might remain in force. Would it be possible to obtain copies of regulations covering the registration of vital statistics in use in other Governments of India?

SIR,

In inviting your kind attention to the article — "Public Health in Mysore State" — in the Daily Post of the 6th instant, I have the honour to state that there is no suitable agency at present for watching the birth and death rate in individual villages; the registers prescribed therefor being mechanically signed at the Jamabandy by the Divisional Officers and it has happened that both in the Malnad and the Maidan, some villages have steadily declined in population. I think this is a very serious matter and requires anxious consideration by leaders of the people, and village Panchayets and by Revenue, Medical and Sanitary Officers of Government. I would therefore suggest the desirability of including this subject also for discussion at the ensuing meeting of the Select Heads of Departments and Deputy Commissioners of Districts at Mysore.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.L.414 dated 19th July 1924 forwarding an extract from the un-official note of the Sanitary Commissioner in the matter of entrusting the work of supervision of registration of vital statistics to Sub-Assistant Surgeons, I have the honor to state that the suggestion of the Sanitary Commissioner does not in any way improve the present system as the registering work is proposed to be continued by the same agency. The present system which is in vogue for some decades need not be condemned unless a better method of registering is devised. The work should in any case, be done by a man on the spot and that man is none but the hereditary Patel. When he has done the work at a time when literacy was rare among that class of village officers, I think, there can be no doubt that he will do better work when literacy is advancing. He is purely a revenue and police officer and his work must be supervised by the Revenue agency

I do not believe that the mere compilation of returns by Taluk medical officers will improve matters. A better suggestion seems to me to be that medical officers may check the mortuary returns when they happen to visit the villages on other duty and give instructions to rectify mistakes, if any. The Sub-Assistant Surgeon may also help the Amildar in reviewing the work of the Village Officers in the Taluk office.

Through the Deputy Commissioner, Hassan District.

Sir,

With reference to your letter No. L.7919-34/Sany. 13-24-4, dated 7th May 1925 forwarding an extract from the un-official note No.C.678, dated 1st April 1925, of the Sanitary Commissioner making certain suggestions in the matter of the investigation of vital statistics and calling for the opinion of the Board, I have the honor to state that the subject was discussed by the Board at their meeting held on 8th August 1925 and they have passed a resolution stating that the Board are not in favour of the suggestions made, as it is opposed to the very principles of local Self Government and that no difficulty of the kind has been met with in this District. It was further resolved that on the other hand the District Medical Officers may be instructed to co-operate to the fullest extent with the Local Boards and the Revenue officers may also be instructed likewise in the matter.

The question is practically one of departmental control and the procedure now suggested leads to complication and undesirable unpleasantness in the practical working of the scheme. I remember that some time back the Sanitary Commissioner had suggested that control over Sanitary Inspectors may be handed over to him in preference to Presidents of District Boards and did not find favour with the Boards or the Government.

In introducing the scheme of Chief Sanitary Inspectors Government expressly passed orders that though Chief Sanitary Inspectors were appointed and the District Medical Officers did not continue as District Sanitary Officers, still their responsibility in the matter did not cease and that they had to co-operate with the Local Boards as before. If the present system of the Sanitary Commissioner should be accepted it will lead to complications as Chief Sanitary Inspectors and Sanitary Inspectors will have too many masters to serve, and the scheme will not work satisfactorily. It will be remembered that the Taluk Boards pay the salary and allowance of the Sanitary Inspectors and the Government pays the salary of the Chief Sanitary Inspectors with instructions to work under the orders of the President, District Boards. Having regard to the statutory relations of the Taluk Boards with the District Board which latter exercises supervision and control over the Taluk Boards and the fact that the Chief Sanitary Inspector also works under the orders of the District Board there is a co-ordination of functions, whereas when these people are placed under the District Medical Officers their position becomes delicate under the dual control of the President of the District Board on the one hand and the District Medical Officer on the other. The District Medical Officer is a member of the District Board, and a departmental advisory in medical matters, while at the same time he has got sanitary duties and responsibilities also as per orders of Government. If therefore he co-operates with the fullest extent with the President of the District Board whoever will be willing to provide him with all facilities and the Revenue authorities also put more energy into this part of this work in obtaining the returns of vital statistics from the Village Officials more regularly and more accurately and more promptly, keeping an eye on the delinquent village officials, there should be no difficulty whatever for the correct compilation of these statistics and an effective review by the Board and the other authorities with a view to the adopting of suitable measures. I may however add that these suggestions of the Sanitary Commissioner appears to have been made in British Indian but did not find favour with or support from responsible authorities.

In these circumstances the Board which discussed the question from all the stand points, resolved against the proposal as stated above and a copy of the same is enclosed.

I may however add that I have been asking the Chief Sanitary Inspector of this District to take up and closely scrutinise and compile these returns of vital statistics besides scrutinising the diaries of Sanitary Inspectors, though he now and then seems to feel that Government orders, now in force, do not expect him to take up this work. notwithstanding the fact that he has been given the services of a qualified Reserve Vaccinator to do the Clerical work for him. A separate reference will however be made in this connection.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

President,
District Board, Hassan.

S i r,

With reference to your letter No. L 7919-34/San: 13-24-4 dated the 7th May 1925 and subsequent reminders, calling for an expression of opinion re: certain suggestions made by the Sanitary Commissioner in Mysore, in the matter of registration of vital statistics, I have the honor to state that the suggestions made by the Sanitary Commissioner are to the effect that the District Medical Officers should be made responsible for consolidation, tabulation and review of vital statistics and so far as this work is concerned, the Sanitary Inspectors and the Chief Sanitary Inspectors should be placed under him.

2. At present, the Patels of villages submit their monthly returns to the Taluk Board Office. These returns are consolidated there by the Sanitary Inspector and the consolidated return of the Taluk is sent up to the District Board Office, where the returns of the several Taluks are consolidated with the help of the Chief Sanitary Inspector, tabulated and reviewed by the District Board half yearly and the review sent to Government through the Sanitary Commissioner. Though these vital statistics and reviews do not pass through the Medical Department, the local Medical Officers are kept informed by special communications of all cases of heavy mortality and outbreak of epidemic diseases and prompt remedical measures are adopted, wherever necessary with their co-operation. It may also be mentioned that the District Medical Officer is ex-officio member of the District Board with opportunities to keep himself in touch with the condition of

of public health in the District.

3. In these circumstances, I am not in favour of the suggestions made by the Sanitary Commissioner, If it should be considered necessary to keep the local Medical Officers also in closer touch with the exact situation of public health in the District, a copy of the consolidated returns of vital statistics of the several Taluks and a copy of the half yearly review submitted to Government may be furnished to the local medical officers of the respective Taluks and to the District Medical Officer for information and suggestion of remedical measures if any.

From V. Anantaraman. Esquire. B.A.,

Deputy Commissioner, Tumkur District.

T u m k u r.

To F Nagappa, Esquire, Bar-at-Law,

Secretary to the Govt: of Mysore, Legislative &

Legislative Departments. Bangalore

Sir

Adverting to your letter No.L. 7919-34/ Sany: 13-24-4 dated the 7th May 1925 and the subsequent reminder ending with D.O.No. G. 8458-9/ Sany: dated the 13th April 1926 calling for my opinion in the matter of certain suggestions made by the Sanitary Commissioner re: the registration of vital statistics I have the honor to state that from the opinions expressed by the several Municipal Councils, it is seen that the Municipal Councils of Sira, Koratagere are agreeable to the proposal and that the Municipal Councils of Chiknayakanahalli. Kunigal. Tiptur. Pavagada and Maddagiri are not in favour of the proposal and want to continue the present system. No reply has yet been received from the Presidents of the Municipal Councils of Tumkur and Turuvekere

2. My own opinion in the matter is that the existing arrangement may continue It is impossible, without risk of complications and misunderstanding to place the Sanitary Inspector directly under the Chief Sanitary Inspector in certain matters only. The arrangement to place a servant of the District Board under the District Medical Officer is open to the same objection. I am therefore not in favour of the suggestion made by the Sanitary Commissioner

sir,
Your most obedient servant

In 1923, the Revenue Commissioner brought to the notice of Government the absence of suitable agency for watching the birth and death rate in individual villages, the registers prescribed being mechanically signed by the Divisional --- Revenue Officers and suggested that the question of steady decline of population in some villages and the registration of Vital Statistics may be discussed at the annual meeting of the Deputy Commissioners and Heads of Departments.

The subject was referred to ~~the Deputy~~ Mr. V.R. Tyagaraja Iyer, Special Duty Officer, Local Self Government and Mr. H.B. Mylvaganam, Sanitary Commissioner and then to the present Sanitary Commissioner(Dr. Usmon

Dr. Usmon considered that the rules issued in 1916 which provide for the compilation of the Vital statistics in the Taluk office by the Sanitary Inspector are suitable and have to be more strictly enforced. In order to ensure better ~~consideration~~ Coordination, he suggested that the Sanitary Inspectors may be placed, for purposes of the scrutiny and compilation of Vital Statistics, directly under the Chief Snitary Inspectors & that the latter in their turn should be responsible first for this particular line of work to the District Medical Officers, who will supervise the consolidation, tabulation and review of the recorded figures"

This suggestion of the Sanitary Commissioner ~~referred to above~~ was referred to the Boards for opinion. It is seen from the long correspondence that the majority of the District Boards and Municipalities are not in favour of introducing the changes proposed by the Sanitary Commissioner as it results in dual control.

During the last one year or so, some important changes have occurred in the Sanitary Department. The posts of Chief Sanitary Inspectors have been abolished and the District Sanitary Officers or District Medical Officers are appointed to the Districts. Taluk Boards have been abolished and Village Panchayets under the revised Regulations established in all the Districts. The rules under the Births and Deaths Registration Regulation have been issued fixing the responsibility of registration and compiling of Vital Statistics to the Revenue agency. According to these, the whole-time District Sanitary Officer should supervise the registration and compilation of quarterly statement of Vital Statistics and prepare a review thereon. The ex-officio D.S.O. should render necessary assistance in the compilation of Vital Statistics. Government have lately sanctioned the appointment of a Vital Statistician.

The question of further reorganising the Sanitary Department is separately under consideration and in the course of a year or two it is expected that more whole-time District Sanitary officers will be appointed.

In these circumstances it is expected that the registration may be more accurate hereafter. As no action appears to be necessary on these papers, these will be closed if approved.
